PRESS OF SINN FEIN'S ORGAN CLOSED DOWN

UNIFORMED MEN BURN HALL FOR REVENGE

Newspaper Urges Sending of Trusted Yankee Reporters to Ireland

DUBLIN, Nov. 6.—Numerous raids were carried out in Dublin this morning. The printing establishment of Patrick Mahon, the Sinn Fein organ, was searched and documents removed. Mahon was arrested. His associates dismantled the machinery and ordered the plant closed.

The district hall of Gervah, county Leitrim, was burned at dawn today by uniformed men. Yesterday vacant police barracks in Gervah were burned.

JOB FOR REPORTERS. The New Statesman suggests that a better plan than an inquiry into conditions in Ireland by a commission appointed in Washington would be for the American press to send over an army of its most able and most trusted correspondents large enough to cover every county in Ireland.

USE OTHER WEAPON. BY C. C. LYON. N. E. Staff Correspondent. DUBLIN, Ireland, Nov. 6.—When an Irishman complains to the world about British military "oppression" it is quite the thing for the world to call him a liar and suggest that he deny it.

Only a few days ago a number of well-known Englishmen addressed a statement to the London Times, urging the necessity of the abandonment by the British government of its "policy of repression in Ireland."

Among those who signed the statement were General Hubert Curzon, H. G. Wells, the author, John Macfield and Philip Gibbs, one of England's foremost journalists.

TO QUOTE FROM THEIR STATEMENT: "Few Englishmen have any idea of the lengths to which the British policy in Ireland has carried. The 'Coercion Act' punishes the victim of the policy. Court martial justice will become the rule. It is provided that men may be kept in prison without trial. A court may act in secret."

"This is not a system of justice. It is designed for the punishment of a political movement. Every solution of the Irish question presupposes a friendly feeling between England and Ireland and we are stimulating hatred. This only creates the atmosphere necessary to the successful working of any solution of the Irish question."

CONSTABLES HAVE POWER. At present the constables or soldiers may raid the home of an Irishman at night, drag him away to prison or stand him against a wall and shoot him without trial and the local coroner, nine times out of ten a Sinn Fein, cannot hold an inquest and return a verdict of murder against the soldiers or constables. The British stopped these inquests because the coroner verdicts rendered were generally political statements.

After Lord Curzon, MacCurtain of Cork had been taken from his home and shot to death some months ago, the Cork coroner listed Premier Lloyd George, along with the constables, as those guilty of the murder.

Unlimited latitude is allowed the military and constabulary operating in Ireland. Upwards of 25,000 raids have been made on Irish homes in a hunt for seditious literature, firearms and other evidences of disloyalty to the king. 20 Irish newspapers were suppressed at one time for printing advertisements for the Irish republic; some 6000 arrests of Sinn Fein leaders and sympathizers have been made. 31 Sinn Fein members of the "Irish Parliament" were in prison at the time of their election; 37 more members have either been imprisoned since their election or are being hunted by the British authorities with a view to imprisoning them; some 2500 deportations of Irishmen; numerous fairs and other public gatherings suppressed; and about 75 Irishmen shot according to republican government figures.

Bandits Mistake Bags Of Anti-Skid Chains For Money; Two Americans Murdered

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The recent murder of the two Americans, Arthur L. Mosely of Bay City, Texas, and Gus Salazar, a naturalized citizen, in the Tampico oil fields, was the result of an attempt by bandits to hold up the pay car of an American company, according to advices from Tampico today. A Mexican employee of the company was so seriously wounded that he died soon afterward.

This was the first bandit raid in this region since the overthrow of Carranza, according to officials. The three men were taking the payroll to the oil fields in an automobile when they were stopped by seven armed men. Mosely was killed before he could move from the car and Salazar as he was getting out. The Mexican was dragged from the machine and shot. The robbers took a bag containing the anti-skid chains which they mistook for the payroll which they left behind.

SENATOR WANTS DEMOCRATS TO GET MORE PEP RUSSIA WILL LIGHT WORLD, DEBS WRITES

Harrison of Mississippi Makes Move for Reorganization of Defeated Party

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Another move toward reorganization of the Democratic party was made here today when Senator Harrison of Mississippi, chairman of the speaker's bureau during the campaign, issued a statement calling on his fellow Democrats to "bury all differences and forget about the recent campaign."

"The Democratic party is not dead," he said, "it has only received a temporary setback and will make itself felt every day of every season of congress until the next election rolls around."

Governor Cox made a gallant fight. He engaged the country's attention by his important role in which he had been assigned. A grateful party will hold itself in highest esteem for the splendid fight he has made and will continue to look upon him as the leader.

HARRISON'S VIEWS. As to the party reorganization Mr. Harrison said:

"I believe that there should be a change in the permanent organization of the Democratic party. I don't mean by that that Chairman White should not be retained as chairman of the national committee. He showed marked ability in the management of the recent campaign which was waged against overwhelming odds. No one could have done better than he did under the circumstances."

"He has been a touching figure in the party and I am sure that when they are put in force every element within the Democratic party will approve of them."

FIGHTING UNITS. "I want to see every Democrat in the country, no matter what his views have been or what his course was in the recent campaign, brought into line and militant organization maintained to fight the reactionary policies the Republicans will assuredly attempt to inaugurate."

The results of the recent election which of course discouraging to the Democracy of the nation should influence Democrats to stand united as never before and work together in a spirit of complete co-operation and accord.

"I have no criticism to make of those Democrats who failed to add the party when it was going hard. I want to see complete harmony with our ranks."

DENVER AND SALT LAKE RAILROAD HAS MILLION DOLLAR FIRE. DENVER, Colo., Nov. 6.—A fire of undetermined origin tonight destroyed the machine shop, tool house, stationery supply building and three locomotives of the Denver and Salt Lake railroad at Utah Junction, near here. W. R. Freeman, receiver for the road, estimated the loss at $1,000,000.

Firemen were handicapped by inadequate water supply. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad loaned engine crews to aid in moving freight cars out of danger, and employees prevented the flames from spreading to the roadhouse.

The road has been in the hands of a receiver for several years.

FARMERS SEEK MEMBERSHIPS IN EXCHANGES

Pass Resolutions Calling on Federal Commission to Take Steps

MONOPOLY PREVAILS NOW, THEY DECLARE

Discussion of Cooperative Marketing Organization Doesn't Lead Very Far

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Request that the federal trade commission and the attorney general or other public authority be called on to take necessary steps to open grain exchanges of the country to membership of co-operative companies unless the exchanges act themselves was made in a resolution adopted today at an executive session of the Farmers' Marketing committee. The resolutions follow:

THE RESOLUTION. "Whereas, the national grain exchanges of the United States bar co-operative companies that distribute their profits in proportion with the volume of business handled, from participating in the buying and selling of grain products; and

"Whereas, the same prevents producers from collectively selling their own products on the markets of the country, thereby creating a monopoly which is not in harmony with the spirit of American institutions; therefore, be it

Resolved, that we call upon the federal trade commission, the attorney general or other public authority to take such steps as may be necessary to open the grain exchanges to membership of co-operative companies unless the grain exchanges shall voluntarily do the same at once."

REPORT ON MARKETS. No very strong demands or exclusive co-operative marketing as likely to be built up unless economic necessity forces a great number of farmers into it. Committee representing mid-west farm federations reported today to the farmers' marketing committee after an investigation of the various forms of organization on the Pacific coast.

The investigation was undertaken to find whether the Pacific coast system of the western co-operative association, which is a co-operative marketing of grain and other mid-west farm products.

In a lengthy report the committee analyzes the benefits and disadvantages of the various forms of organization used by the Pacific coast fruit and provision men. The organizations cannot fix prices, the report says, and other famous and one woman member of the committee, South Webster, after consideration, was not admitted.

Along with the great humorist, whose "Huckleberry Finn" "Innocent Abroad" and a hundred other light hearted tales have endeared themselves to the American reader, five other famous and one woman member of the committee, South Webster, after consideration, was not admitted.

Harding Assured Of Cooperation in Working Out Association Plan

PARIS, Nov. 6.—It was stated in official circles today that the French government would be ready to co-operate with the authorities at Washington in formulating something different from the covenant of the league of nations as drawn at Versailles. This statement was made in official quarters in referring to the declaration of President-elect Harding, cabled from Marion to the French press to the effect that the Versailles covenant was now "deceased."

This is interpreted by officials as applying to the covenant as drawn at Versailles and as indicating that some other agreement must take its place. To that end, it was stated by officials, the French government would be ready to give its collaboration.

It has been the generally accepted view here that the French government would accept reformation by the United States regarding article X and the other provisions of the covenant which have been the subject of controversy in the United States. In this connection it was pointed out in official circles today that the original French idea of a league of nations did not contain anything like article X.

NAME IMMATERIAL. Whether the amended organization would be called a league, or a society or an association, is immaterial to France, according to the government viewpoint. The essential thing, it is held, is to arrive as near as possible to the prevention of war.

The French government considers that it would be regrettable to sacrifice the organization already set up and that the preferable procedure is to amend the existing league under the name of an association if it meets the American view.

HERRICK MAY AID. WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—State department and White House officials refused today to discuss reports from Paris, published in this country that Myron T. Herrick, formerly American ambassador to France, had been chosen as an intermediary in negotiations with President-elect Harding regarding Mr. Harding's proposal for an association of nations.

Officials at the state department would not say whether the French government formally had communicated to the present administration its desire to discuss this or other matters with the new administration in advance of its actual inauguration, nor would they say whether there was a precedent for such a request.

They also refused to say whether they had information that Mr. Harding was to be asked by the French government to send a personal representative to the League of Nations assembly of the league of nations.

Five Other Famous Men Are Selected for Positions of Honor. PRESIDENT ELECT TO SPEAK ARMISTICE DAY

Successful Candidate Declares He Will Strive to Be People's Executive

On Board President-Elect Harding's Special Train, Nov. 6.—Crowds rivaling those of campaign days turned President-elect Harding's vacation trip into a triumphal tour today as he traveled southward for an outing on the Texas coast.

At more than a dozen cities along the way in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois his private car was besieged by cheering men, women and children clamoring for a speech or a chance to shake hands. In some cases there were thousands in the crowd and even at the smaller towns where no stops were made the people turned out in force to wave him their regards.

PEOPLE'S PRESIDENT. In several places he spoke briefly from the rear platform of his car, expressing his gratitude for the welcome accorded him and declaring that he meant to be the people's president, forgetful of the partisanship of the campaign and devoted always to the interests of the nation as a whole. As in his campaign speeches he preached a doctrine of common understanding and of faithfulness to American institutions and ideals.

Mrs. Harding also waved a greeting to every crowd and at every stop there were cheers for the next first lady of the land. Flowers and other gifts were handed up to her at several stops as she leaned out the window shaking hands with all of those within reach.

PARTY SURPRISED. The number who gathered along the path of the special train was a surprise to those on board. Mr. Harding's advisers have declined to make public his itinerary and also having arranged to stop at several stops, to give him thorough rest. The news traveled ahead, however, and as soon as he saw the first vastyde gathering, the president-elect himself insisted that it would be unfair to run past waiting crowds without a word of greeting.

Mr. Harding also announced during the day that he had agreed to break up his two-day stay at Point Isabel, Texas, by delivering an address in Brownsville, twenty miles away, on next Thursday, Armistice day. He will speak under a large tent, and the Legion but detailed arrangements have not yet been made.

CONTINUOUS RUN. Mr. Harding's train which left Chicago at 11:30 this morning was a practically continuous run to its destination. A stop of a half hour was made tonight at St. Louis and tomorrow at St. Paul. The train will leave for St. Paul at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow.

At St. Louis the greater part of the crowd that gathered to greet the president-elect left his car and spoke from a crowd of people gathered in the square in front of the station.

In the course of his address he expressed satisfaction at the results of the election in Missouri, which went overwhelmingly Republican.

TWAS A CAMPAIGN. In none of his rear platform speeches during the day did Mr. Harding touch directly on the issues of the campaign, but he called several of his audiences to witness that he was preaching the same doctrine now as when he was a candidate for office.

When he referred, at Paris, Ill., to his "single-mindedness," he was speaking of "It was a clean campaign," and he replied, "Yes, you are right and one for which we need make no apologies and after it is won we will be a party of Americans have spoken in favor of a well defined program for our common country, then we cease to be in a general sense Republicans and Democrats but we are all Americans for America."

"While I have preached the gospel of party government, that is a government through the sponsorship of party, I may tell you now in the reflection and sober thought of the aftermath that I do not want my party to be serving to keep itself in power or to perpetuate the place-holding of its members but I want my party to serve America for the American people."

In his other speeches he repeated the same point several times in different language.

VICTORY FOR PEOPLE. "We won our victory for Republican policies and Republican candidates," he said, "at Charleston, Ill. From this time on, it is to be a victory for American policies and the American people."

"We are partisan in our campaigns and after our campaigns are over, we are all alike, citizens of the republic, interested in the common welfare of the American people. It is going to be the aim of the incoming administration always, to strive to understand what the aspirations and conscience of the American people is and to put it into effect."

G. B. Christian, Jr., Mr. Harding's secretary was in charge of the train and the fact that his relations with the chief were being continued beyond the end of the campaign started a report that he had been selected for secretary to the president. There was no official confirmation, however, and American cardinals will be created at the forthcoming consistory.

POPE GIVES MONEY FOR GERMANY RELIEF. ROME, Nov. 6.—Pope Benedict, in the course of a farewell audience given to Monsignor Karl Joseph Schulte, archbishop of Cologne, today handed the German prelate a half million lire for relief among the children of central Europe. It is confirmed that Monsignor Schulte will be made a cardinal at next month's consistory when the archbishop of Ragusa, apostolic nuncio at Madrid, will receive the red hat.
